

Drawing Inferences

- 1 Read a chapter of the text, and keep an eye out for text clues.
- 2 What was a text clue that you noticed?
- 3 What does this text clue help you to draw an inference about?
- 4 What inference can you draw from the images in the chapter? (Pictures can be clues too!)
- 5 Why do you think authors get readers to draw inferences? What would happen if they wrote everything out in full?

“Drawing inferences is sometimes called “reading between the lines”
