

Images

- Remind students that images are included with a text to help them understand it better.
- Have the students all look at the same page, and ask: “What is this picture showing you?” Choose some students to share their ideas with the group.
- Have students think, pair, share about how the picture connects to the text, and then discuss their ideas as a group.
- Ask: “What extra information does the picture give you?”
- Ask: “How does the picture help you to better understand what the text is saying?”
